Have you or someone you love been impacted by opioid use? Do you want to speak out about your experience to help educate others on potential risk from opioid misuse?

Utah State University's HEART Initiative is looking for youth who want to share their story. We will help you develop your story so that it engages your audience through online workshops. Top stories will be invited to share their story on stage in front of a live audience!

Live storytelling will take place at the Salt Lake Acting Company in July 2019
